STOP... and we did at the crossroads

We stopped to consider the best road to choose in order to turn our aspirations into performances. Before continuing, we set a high goal for ourselves—one that we could hold up as an ideal and that would be worthy of our constant strivings.

LOOK... at the familiar

Campus sights

... the snow-covered walk, to the Student Union, the couples sunning themselves on the slopes overlooking the tennis courts, Nippert Stadium filled with ardent fans, lights gleaming in the Evening College classrooms—all so commonplace now, but how unforgettable they will be when you are no longer a part of college life. You will cherish these memories.

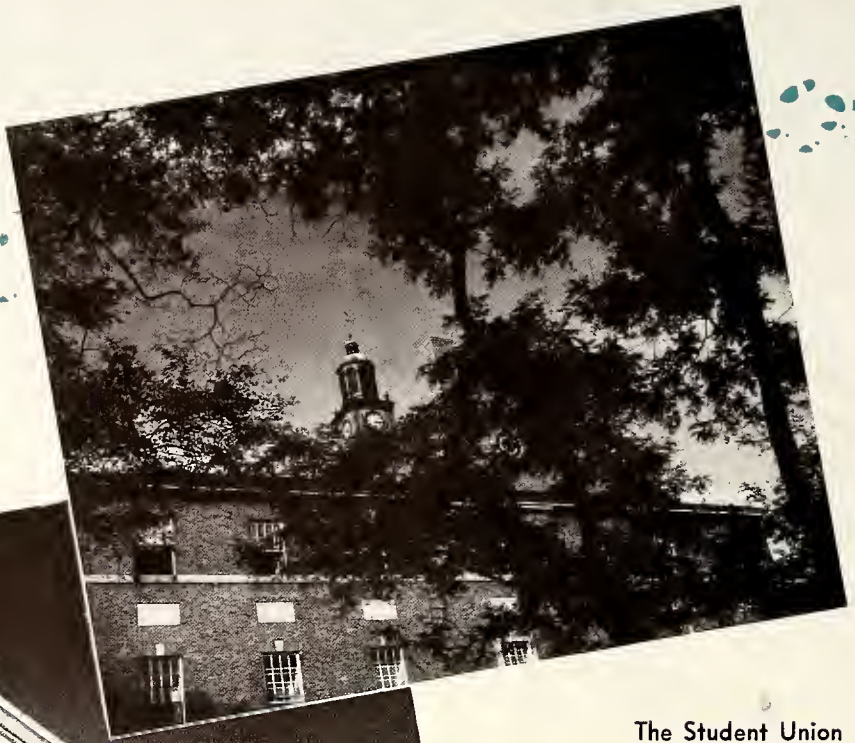

LISTEN . . . to the thoughts,

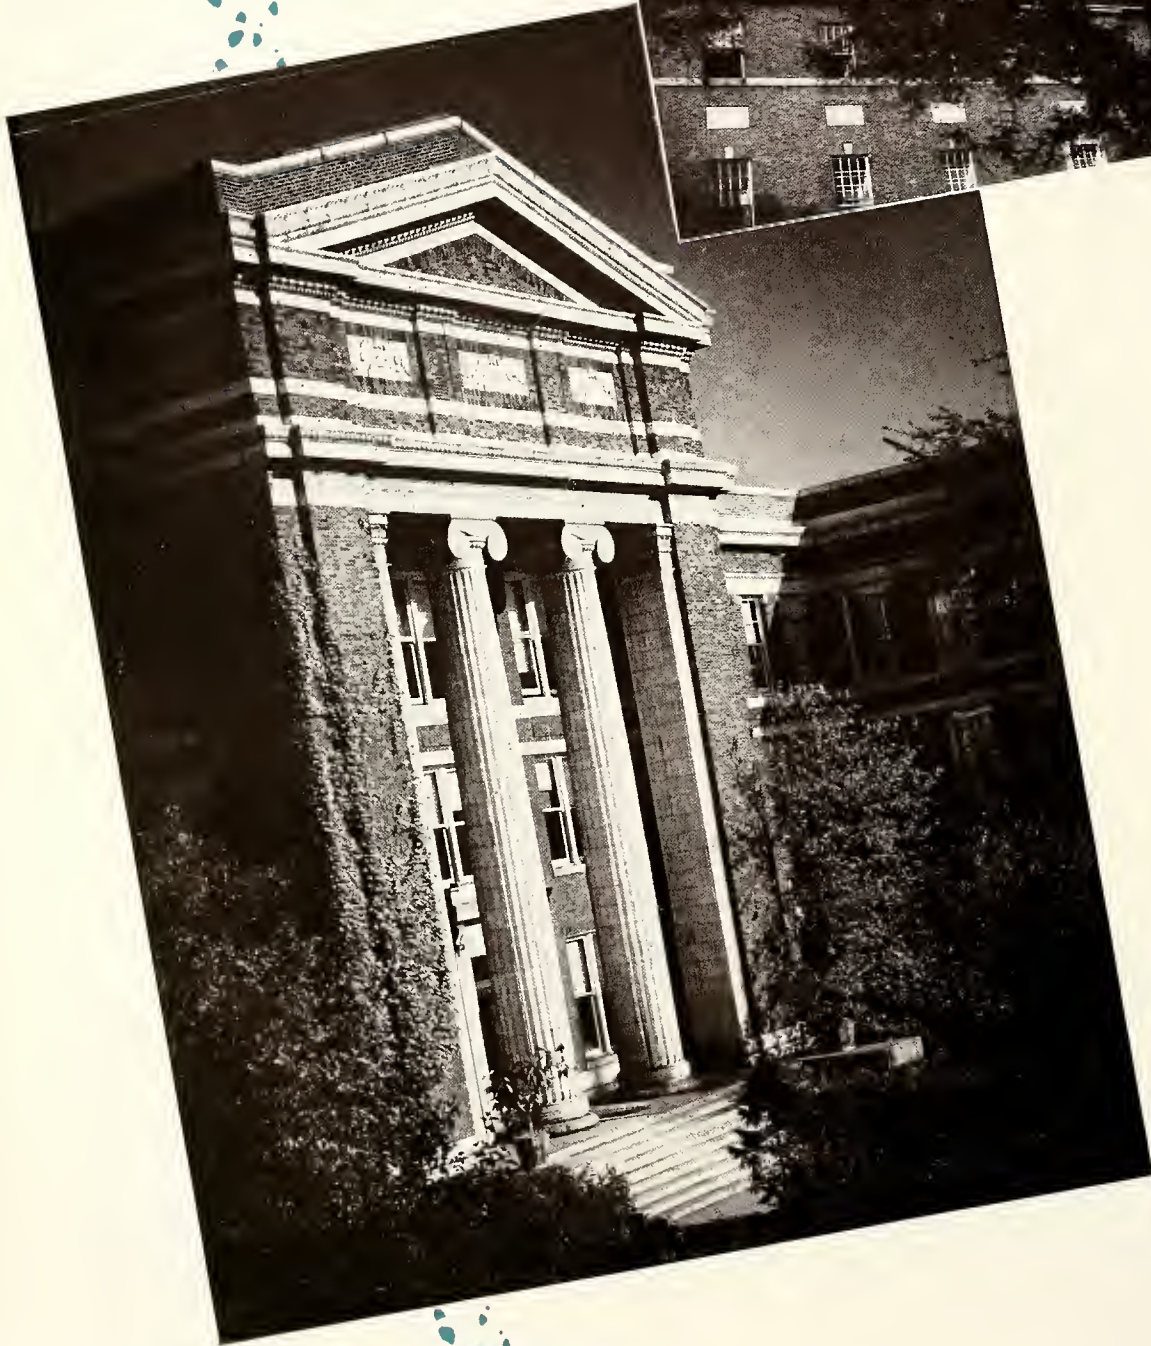

ideas and opinions

... of the men and women around you expressed in small talk and big talk. Listen to the formulated words of the professors lecturing in their classes. The training of the classroom is the inspiration of our future: today we learn—tomorrow we live.

A MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

The 1947 CINCINNATIAN commemorates a grand year. It marks the graduation of a class of whom the University of Cincinnati is proud. More broadly, this year has vital significance in the academic world because it supplies solid hope for the era to come.

This hope lies in the performance in our University—as in other universities and colleges—of veteran students. Far from regarding it as a free and gay ride at the expense of Uncle Sam (as some had predicted), the G.I.s have accepted the educational subsidy afforded by a grateful nation as a splendid opportunity. During the academic year 1946-47 the veteran students have done extremely well in classroom and laboratory, and their scholastic records of June 1947 will definitely surpass average standards.

Moreover the veterans have manifested character qualities in admirable measure,—ambition, determination, constancy of purpose and interest in citizenship on the campus and in the nation. Perhaps because of their war experience and travel, they are concerned about international affairs; they realize the utter necessity of preventing the global cataclysm to which another world war would condemn us.

Since the leaders of the nation in the coming era will obviously come from the ranks of university and college graduates, it is inspiring that these graduates will include so large a proportion of veterans who are demonstrating, in their current college work, the qualities of intelligence and character so essential for American leadership.

To the Cincinnatians of our University, veterans and non-veterans alike, I commend the thought of spiritual values in our campus life. Happily, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths place a common emphasis upon the brotherhood of man as a corollary of the fatherhood of God. We possess a rich opportunity to practice brotherhood on this campus. We possess a rich opportunity to seek God's help by prayer and service.

RAYMOND WALTERS.

NORMAN P. AUBURN
Vice-President and Dean of University Administration

In years to come as you leaf through the pages of this 1947 Cincinnatian you will remember an interesting, lively college year. This book will reawaken memories of your collegiate career. It will serve, therefore, in Hamlet's words, as "the abstract and brief chronicles of the time."

You will recall a pleasant autumn with each succeeding registration day bringing additional scores and hundreds of students. New classmates, many with impressive war records, others just out of high school. New faculty members to teach the largest student body in U. C.'s history.

Scholastically, you will remember classroom experiences and conferences with your instructors which added to your intellectual and spiritual development and opened up new vistas in your thinking.

As your thoughts turn to extra-curricular activities you'll recall the brilliant Bearcat eleven, victorious over Indiana and Michigan State; the splendid marching Band; the Mummies' superb production, "Joan of Lorraine"; the Glee Club's fine eastern trip.

I urge all of you to preserve this book. In years to come it will enable you to live again for a few moments the vital days of 1946-47. Life marches on inexorably, and we seldom have time to recall our yesteryears. But there are occasions when it is rewarding to do so.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Meeting monthly during the school year, the Board of Directors of the University act upon financial expenditures, alumnal affairs, appointments and resignations of the faculty, and matters of policy. It is further responsible for the general control and conduct of the University. The Board of Directors consists of nine members who are prominent in Cincinnati civic, industrial, and professional life. Each member is appointed by the mayor of Cincinnati, with the approval of Council, for a period of nine years.

ROBERT W. BISHOP
Dean of Men

DEAN OF MEN

By means of conferences, intelligence and psychological tests, and precise records of grades and campus activities, the Dean of Men is able to keep track of the college career of each man on campus. The Dean takes care of personal, as well as financial and scholastic problems. The Dean of Men also acts as advisor on several boards, among them: Inter-fraternity Council, Men's Senate, and Social and Union Boards.

All fraternity affairs are taken care of in the Dean's office. Pledge grades are filed there and passed upon before a man may be initiated into a fraternity.

DEAN OF WOMEN

With women serving more prominently in politics, in scientific pursuits, and in world affairs, the Dean of Women of a large university has a most important role in the counseling and development of the lives and personalities of the women undergraduates.

At U. C. our Dean of Women has a multitudinous task. Hours are filled with interviewing every freshman woman on campus, supervising and coordinating women's activities, and serving in general as counselor and mentor for all women students. She also supervises the Junior Advisors, is faculty advisor for Women's Senate and Inter-dormitory Council, and serves on several boards such as Union Board and Social Board.

This year the staff is fortunate in having a new Assistant Dean of Women, Dr. Lillian Johnson, who serves as counselor to WGS, Liberal Arts women, and the Student Council.

COLLEGE OF APPLIED ARTS

The College of Applied Arts is an outgrowth of the Department of Architecture which was established as a branch of the College of Engineering and Commerce in 1922. Since that time the curriculum has been expanded to cover all divisions of architecture and art in industry. Within a relatively few years this department grew so much in size and importance that early in 1946 the School of Applied Arts became a separate college under the able guidance of Dean Ernest F. Pickering. Today, more than ever, it is realized that pleasing design increases the value of any article and that the best expression of art should be found in the beauty of things which are in common daily use. The recognition of these concepts by industry and art account for the steadily increasing enrollment of the College of Applied Arts.

APPLIED ARTS TRIBUNAL

Looking back over an unusually busy year, Applied Arts Tribunal felt their job had been completed. Not only did they take over the functions of the inactive Applied Arts Club, but added many new activities to their calendar. Perhaps the highlight of the year was the Beaux Arts Ball where wierdly garbed future artists added a touch of Paris to the Great Hall. Other outstanding events were the Christmas Egg Nog Party, Freshman Mixer, V.I.C. lectures and movies, spring picnic, and the monthly news issues on "Swift Hall Doings".

The local chapter, Alpha Zeta, is widely known on campus for its yearly parties and exhibits, with the annual Christmas sale highlighting the year. Evidence of the organization's capabilities was given at the National Convention where individual honors for outstanding art work were attained by several of the members. In the social world, the group sponsors an annual tea for freshmen and a Christmas egg-nog party featuring presents for the faculty.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Commercial engineering was introduced as the result of a demand for a new type of course. It had long been noted that many students trained as engineers found their way into commercial, business, and managerial activities. Due to its close relationship in basic subjects and activities, the College of Commerce was merged with the College of Engineering in 1919 to form the College of Engineering and Commerce. The course in commerce was completely reorganized on the co-operative plan, and shortly after, women students were admitted to it on the co-operative basis. In April, 1946, the commerce division was set up as a separate College of Business Administration.

The Business Administration Tribunal is the newest individual governing body on the campus. It is composed, however, of the people who have had extensive experience in student administration, and is well guided. Under the able leadership of Betty Lou Koch, a constitution to further the interest of Business Administration students has been drawn up and ratified by the students. The first social function of the new organization was an Old Clothes Dance given for the students and the faculty of the college.

COLLEGE of ENGINEERING

The College of Engineering is noted for its co-operative system which has been adopted by many leading educational institutions throughout the world. This system was established in 1906 by Dean Herman Schneider. At first, only courses in chemical, electrical, and mechanical engineering were offered; however, in 1919, civil engineering was opened to co-operative students. A co-operative program in aeronautics soon followed.

Although separated now from the Colleges of Applied Arts and Business Administration which it formerly sponsored, the College of Engineering's steadily rising attendance rate proves the popularity of this field.

ENGINEERING TRIBUNAL

The Engineering Tribunal is the upper forum of all engineering activities. It sponsors most of the outstanding events in the College of Engineering. A reception for the largest incoming freshman group kept the tribunal busy acquainting these would-be-engineers with traditions of their college and university. The highlight of this year's activity was the Engineer's Ball where 500 engineers and their dates spent an evening dancing. A variety show and a lottery of valuable door-prizes culminated the evening's entertainment.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

Chemical and Metallurgical Engineers are men who are trained in the fundamental sciences of mathematics, chemistry, and physics and who also have a strong inclination toward the application of these fundamentals in chemical and metallurgical industries. Accordingly, their later studies and training develop into a transition or conversion from test tubes, flasks, beakers, microscopes, and crucibles to a consideration of large scale production in the chemical and metallurgical fields. To their efforts civilization owes the production of gasoline, cement, paint, plastics, soap, textiles, leather, and other familiar products; as well as the many and varied ferrous and non-ferrous alloys developed for general and special purposes.

ALPHA CHI SIGMA

Alpha Chi Sigma, striving to further interest in the theoretical and practical problems pertaining to the field of chemistry, is a professional society whose membership is elective for students who have maintained a high average in the chemistry field in the Liberal Arts or Engineering Colleges.

CIVIL ENGINEERING

Upon widespread and continuing alterations of the earth's surface depend the chosen habits and very lives of the people of the world. Complex and calculated structures below, upon, and above the earth are immediate local necessities. Also man is dependent upon the development of rivers, railways, dams, airports, harbors, large scale public and private buildings thousands of miles away.

Changing nature's own ruthless arrangements for the usage and wearing away of mountains, valleys and shore lines is a formidable undertaking requiring cooperation between industry or government and large numbers of men with a special know-how who are called Civil Engineers.

A. S. C. E.

All students in Civil Engineering automatically become members of the American Society of Civil Engineers upon commencement of their sophomore year. This society, of nation wide importance, occupies a very prominent place in the College of Engineering. Striving to coordinate information and promote interest in the field of civil engineering, the local chapter devoted its resources to acquainting its members with the facts, problems, and current trends pertaining to this field.

A. I. E. E.

The purpose of the student branch of the A.I.E.E. is to afford students in the Electrical Department the opportunity to develop their latent leadership abilities and to become better acquainted with various phases of engineering. Meetings at which either students, faculty, or graduate engineers present talks, and inspection trips acquaint students with engineering projects and accomplishments. Thus, A.I.E.E. activities offer the electrical students a splendid opportunity to supplement their formal courses of instruction with activities designed to develop those qualities which are essential to a successful engineer.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Mechanical Engineering specializes in the design, construction, maintenance, and use of machinery; in the generation and use of power; in the art of the production of goods and the management of men in industrial enterprises. Perhaps no other branch of engineering covers as diversified a field of effort. The manufacture of home appliances and all forms of machinery, the processing of food including refrigeration, the heating and ventilating of buildings, the manufacture of electric power, all come within the province of the mechanical engineer.

Professor J. W. BUNTING,
Head of Mechanical Engineering

PI TAU SIGMA

Pi Tau Sigma, national honorary mechanical engineering fraternity, seeks to foster the high ideals of the engineering profession, stimulate interest in co-ordinate departmental activities, and further the professional welfare of its members. Choosing its members on the basis of practical and scholastic achievements and interest, the fraternity takes an active part in the Co-op Day program and A.S.M.E. affairs and presents a handbook to the outstanding Mechanical Engineering sophomore.

A. S. M. E.

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers was founded to further interest in the field of mechanical engineering. The student section at U.C. was relatively inactive during the war. However, A.S.M.E. has made great strides in their meetings with the Cincinnati Section at the Engineers Club this year. Movies, speakers, and papers presented by students have greatly aided in the revival of this organization. Another project consisted of the joint sponsorship with the COOPERATIVE ENGINEER of the "Engineer's Forum."

AERONAUTICAL ENGINEERING

To the lot of the Aeronautical Engineers falls calculating of the greatest accuracy, since airborne craft of necessity must be strong yet light. As this task is of no easy solution, courses included in the engineering schedule range from fundamental mathematics, physics, aerodynamics, and mechanisms of machines to airplane structures and their stress analysis, materials, meteorology, climatology, aerostatics, and aircraft power plants. In this field attention has lately been called to the development of jet propulsion and rockets, for there is never a static in aviation advance.

GENERAL ENGINEERING

General Engineers are trained to fill managerial and executive positions in manufacturing plants, public utilities, municipalities, and governmental agencies. These engineers are chosen for such positions because their training in basic engineering principles has been supplemented by training in production management and commerce. A general engineer must not only understand the scientific and technical features of engineering design, production, and management, but must also possess a knowledge of such industrial problems as distribution, cost, corporation finance and investment, labor, and public relations.

COLLEGE of HOME ECONOMICS

Today, as the postwar demand for trained women with an intimate knowledge of human needs and family life is growing increasingly vital to our national welfare, the College of Home Economics is striving to meet this demand with an extensive and comprehensive professional program. The primary objective of the faculty of this college is to equip each student to meet her obligations as a constructive force in family, professional, and community life.

HOME ECONOMICS TRIBUNAL

The tribunal of the College of Home Economics had a busy year. Its primary purpose is to function as a democratic governing group, and it invites all students to offer suggestions and assistance in its work. This year, as before, the members assisted in orientation programs and in the welcoming of incoming freshmen. The traditional student-faculty Christmas party was given, a get-together for Home Ec. students, and plans for V.I.C. conferences were made.

To a Home Ec. girl, the Home Economics Club means friendship, parties, and fun; and, on the more serious side, it means community service. The array of gifts collected for the Old Peoples' Home and Orphans' Homes stand as worthy proof of its merit.

TAU PI EPSILON

Tau Pi Epsilon, designed for the purpose of perpetuating interest in child care and training, is composed of outstanding woman students in this field. Activities for the year included a Christmas party at the St. Joseph Orphanage and other philanthropic work.

Membership in Omicron Nu, the national honorary in the college is Home Economics, is based on interest in scholarship, leadership, and research in home economics. Outstanding in the spring season was the Scholarship Tea given in conjunction with Tau Pi Epsilon for the upper fifteen per cent of the underclasses. A final symbol of Omicron Nu's interest in scholastic promotion was the plaque awarded to the outstanding Home Ec. senior.

COLLEGE of LIBERAL ARTS

At last the lions guarding McMicken Hall will have more to anticipate than being splashed with red paint by Miami U before each Thanksgiving game. Plans for a new McMicken Hall are at last crystallizing, and the beautiful new College of Liberal Arts Building is about to become a reality. Gathering itself from buildings all over the campus, Dean Barbour's collegiate contingent may now look ahead to the day when it will again have a "home to call its own!"

LIBERAL ARTS TRIBUNAL

Co-ordinating the activities of the widely scattered and homeless College of Liberal Arts is no easy task, but the L.A. Tribunal tries to do right by its electors. A daylong "Open House" at Christmas attracted hundreds of students and faculty who joined in the singing of Christmas carols. In February the Tribunal sponsored the U.C. appearance of the "Panel of Americans," six coeds who presented a memorable convocation program. The Tribunal also arranged the L.A. program for the Women's V.I.C. Series and scheduled an all-college picnic in the Spring.

The Grill's closed, what now?

PHI BETA KAPPA

Election to Phi Beta Kappa represents high scholastic achievement in the College of Liberal Arts. Candidates for either the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees are selected from the highest fifteen percent of the class. The ideals of the organization emphasize friendship, morality, and intellectual attainment as the goals of all educated men and women.

COLLEGE OF MEDICINE

Hours in lab; hours working on cadavers; hours spent cramming for quizzes and exams; and the rest of the time spent praying for a passing grade—that is the life of a med. student.

The College of Medicine of the University of Cincinnati has a world-wide reputation for its high educational standards. Comprehensive clinical experience is made available to our medical students at three Cincinnati hospitals—General, Children's, and Holmes. Our College of Medicine is also known for its research laboratories and special projects working toward the advancement of medical science.

STANLEY E. DORST
Dean of the College of Medicine

Well, you have to relax sometime.

COLLEGE of NURSING and HEALTH

In 1889, a group of public spirited women organized the Cincinnati Training School for Nurses. In keeping with the developments in nursing education since that time, the College of Nursing and Health has established its present program—a four year integrated academic and professional preparation, leading to a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree. The aim of the college is to graduate professional nurses who have the ability to give skillful, sympathetic, and intelligent nursing care in any patient-nurse situation.

NURSING and HEALTH TRIBUNAL

One of the busiest organizations on campus, the Nursing and Health Tribunal is responsible for the planning of most of its college's extra curricular program. An active, interesting, and varied off-duty life for the student nurse is combined with the usual governing functions of this organization.

What's the joke?

TEACHERS COLLEGE

The University's Teachers College offers a five year program in which students may get both liberal and professional training. Further, it provides the students with actual practice in teaching before they graduate. This college keeps abreast of the times by incorporating into its curriculum all new teaching methods whose values have been proven. Students may further combine a Teachers College with a Liberal Arts course to gain a more well-rounded program.

TEACHERS COLLEGE TRIBUNAL

Promoting harmony among the various departmental groups in Teachers College, the Tribunal finds its job an all-absorbing one. Elected by the students, the Tribunal members also act as the law making body of this college. In the fall this group sponsored a Thanksgiving convocation which was followed by another at Easter. The traditional Christmas open house offered further proof that T. C. Tribunal will always be ready to serve its college.

Watch the birdie.

KINDER GARTEN CLUB

When it comes to teaching, the Kinder-garten Primary students will lead the field. Helped along by meetings with speakers, these girls learn the "musts" of a successful kindergarten teacher's life. Monthly parties keep the social side of this organization above par.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

The desire for post-graduate work on the part of returning veterans has brought an increased enrollment in the Graduate School. The war years have shown that problems of world importance require a higher and more elaborate knowledge and training for science and humanity.

The work of the Graduate School is particularly important because it is from its ranks that the faculty of this and of other institutions of learning are recruited.

The University of Cincinnati also boasts of a Graduate Club which is not found in all colleges. Graduate students from each department meet socially and informally two or three times a month to discuss various aspects of their particular fields.

An Evening College class in design principles.

EVENING COLLEGE

Through its Evening College, the University of Cincinnati makes its facilities available to persons otherwise employed during the day. Many persons, including many returned veterans, are taking advantage of this opportunity to obtain a college education or to get specialized training in some particular subject while continuing their normal daytime employment. Others take advantage of this opportunity to pursue some subject that is of interest to them from a strictly cultural standpoint.

The Evening College offers a broad curriculum. Not only are students able to earn certificates and degrees at night, but they have a chance to enter college activities through its Student Council, "Night Hawks" social organization, U. C. Night Times, and various other clubs and fraternal organizations.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President—Gordon Hughmark
Vice-President—Maryllen Voss

Secretary—George Koch
Treasurer—Fay Justice

Student Council worked hard on its usual business of checking constitutions and budgets for student organizations. George Koch of the Budget Committee was frequently found walking around campus asking all and sundry, "Do you think an organization or its members should pay the cost of a picture in the Cincinnati?" Ray Wuerth, head of the Constitution Committee, could not open his mouth unless to say "whereas in Section II of Article IV . . ." And the poor secretary just went on trying to unscramble the rantings and ravings of these two geniuses.

Can we get by with it?

WOMEN'S SENATE

President—Mona Castellini
 Vice-President—Rita Lutz
 Recording Secretary—Jean Hock
 Corresponding Secretary—LaVern Dick
 Treasurer—Jenny Schmid

An active and interesting governing body on campus is Women's Senate. The duties of this group entail the controlling of all women's organizations that are not under the jurisdiction of Student Council or faculty. The most significant of these organizations are Junior Advisors, Vigilance, and Wig Wag. Women's Senate is also responsible for sponsoring various programs of importance throughout the year. Under this category fall the Vocational Information Conference and annual Strawberry Breakfast—two of the outstanding achievements of the year.

MEN'S SENATE

President—Dave Schilmeister

Vice-President—Lonnie Sullivan

Secretary-Treasurer—William B. Paullin

Executive Board—Walter Friedlander, Gordon Reed

ROW 1—Reed, G.; Sullivan, L.; Schilmeister, D.; Paullin, W. B.; Friedlander, W. ROW 2—Klusman, L.; Koch, G.; Kennedy, C.; Roberts, R.; Lambert, V.; Butler, R.; Rodgers, R.

Men's Senate is composed of a representative from each men's organization on campus. Its function is to work in conjunction with Student Council, co-ordinating the affairs of men's activities. Most important on the calendar for this year was the awarding, on Honor Day, of a plaque to the outstanding men's organization at the university. Not just another contest, but actual recognition of a job well done by part of the student body.

Why so pensive, George?

SOCIAL BOARD

Chairman—James Waring
Treasurer—Frances Ahlering

Corresponding Secretary—Betty Green

ROW 1—Bishop, R. W.; Lutz, R.; Wuerth, R.; Ahlering, F.; Waring, J. ROW 2—Adamson, L.; Kennedy, C.; Green, B.; Aldermann, W.; Frazer, H.

Operating this year under a new constitution, Social Board's job was more important than ever. It had jurisdiction over almost every all-university student function, in addition to control over dances and parties sponsored by school or fraternal groups. Allocating dates and times for these functions, Social Board also had the task of investigating and supporting financially all approved all-university social affairs. As the final proof of Social Board's increased importance, membership was increased to nine students and two faculty members.

Let's bring it up to date.

ORIENTATION BOARD

Orientation Board is composed of one representative from each college and a representative from Junior Advisors and Men's Senate. It provides a greater unity among the various colleges and serves to plan programs which are acceptable to each. The group work together to introduce the incoming freshman students to the life and customs of the UC campus. Various programs featured an opening luncheon, teas, and the ever popular Freshman Mixer. Administratively, the Orientation Board assists in administering the psychological and vocational guidance exams.

UNION BOARD

President—George Koch
 Vice-President—Phyllis Hock
 Secretary—William Castellini

Drawing its members from both faculty and student bodies, the Union Board contributes materially to the efficient direction of campus activities. While the primary function of this group is the allocation of rooms in the Student Union to various organizations, the Board also occupies itself with seeing that everything functions properly in the grill, game room, and cafeteria. Another phase of Union activity which the Board supervises is the rental prices of Union facilities to different groups for social, educational, and fraternal purposes.

Publications

BOARD of PUBLICATIONS

Board of Publications is composed of the editors and business managers of the Cincinnati and the News Record, two representatives of Student Council, and the faculty advisors of the two publications. The purpose of the board is to assure smooth running of these two campus news organs, to solve their financial difficulties, to act upon matters of policy, and to choose, in the main, the editors and business managers of the student publications. It's not unusual for a heated discussion over any one of these matters to hold the members of the board in session for hours.

COOPERATIVE ENGINEER

The Cooperative Engineer, published quarterly by and for College of Engineering students, not only permits students in the engineering field to express their views upon present trends and events, but also acquaints the students with news events in their own quadrangle and new developments within the entire engineering field. Throughout its 25 years of publication, the Cooperative Engineer has aided the College of Engineering in obtaining nation-wide publicity for its achievements.

CINCINNATION

It's Thursday afternoon and Helle is in the office bemoaning the fact that it's the middle of the seventh week, and she's six and a half weeks behind in her school work. Harvey enters and deposits himself in a businesslike attitude to look over the bills. Harper dashes in and out between meetings. Ginny and Earl come in between bites of food in the Grill. Stocky goes "quietly" crazy over those lists of seniors. They all dash off to dinner hoping the rest of the staff will show up for work that night—and return to find only two.

NEWS RECORD

"Smittie" tears his hair out when he discovers at the last minute that one of the big ads turned out to be the wrong size. It's Tuesday afternoon so he has to call up the printers where Mary Patricia Ann throws ten fits when she hears the news. At the same time "Rev" Seaman is saying, "I told you so", and Chief H. J. inverts page two to see if it will come out less gray. Bumpy meanwhile throws up his hands in horror at the results and shouts, "Oh, no." Such is "normal" life on the News Record.

PROFILE

Again the PROFILE has had a general housecleaning and face lifting. Its burdensome literary shackles have been thrown off and the magazine has established itself as one of the channels of campus thought. New ideas have enhanced the magazine's popularity, and it is recognized as unique in its field. Among the most outstanding of its new features in each issue is the article —PROFILE—a picture and life sketch of one of U.C.'s outstanding students.

STUDENT DIRECTORY

All over the campus—from Memorial Dorm to Simrall Hall—lights are out! Only the Student Directory staff, with aching backs and blurred eyes, work on into the night copying registration cards, typing, and alphabetizing hundreds of names. "McCullough, McCurdy, McDaniel, McDevitt, McDonald . . . Janey, did you hear deadline's tomorrow? Do you think if we work all night we'll meet it? Guess what, Carol, no one in the school has a name that begins with X. This freshman's local address is Huntington, W. Va. Do you think he commutes?" "Pat, if you'd only stop talking, we'd get a lot more done." Oh, it was such fun!

WESTMINSTER FOUNDATION

Westminster Foundation is a student religious organization with a broad devotional, fellowship, and service program. Its activities include Sunday evening suppers and devotional services at the Mt. Auburn Presbyterian Church, group interest meetings, weekly social gatherings, Wednesday noon luncheons at the Student Union, and numerous social service projects. During the school year, members engage in the study of interesting issues of the day and are privileged to have prominent religious, professional, and civic leaders as their discussion directors.

Is everybody happy?

Y.M.C.A.

The year 1946-47 marked the return of the Y.M.C.A. program to its prewar level of activities. Beginning with a membership drive that produced a total membership of 1337, the U. C. "Y" became one of the largest student Y.M.C.A.'s in the country. A fall retreat, traditional Thanksgiving Eve Pep Dance, Yule Log services, Inter-fraternity Greek Night dinner, National Assembly, numerous tea dances, all-membership meetings, and forums stand as worthy examples of the Y's busy year.

Y.W.C.A.

In this postwar year the YWCA returned to its former headquarters in the attractive "Y" building on Calhoun Street. Through the organization of interest groups in social problems, campus fellowship, international affairs, interracial relationships, community service, and the fine arts, the "Y" served to widen the horizons, provided opportunities for service, and afforded practice in democracy for university women. An organization on campus that enlists the sincere and devoted participation of every member in a worthy program.

LIT SOCIETY

Each spring the campus notices seven outstanding sophomore women displaying the coveted Lit fork. This singular identification means that they have been pledged to Lit, honorary literary society. Enjoyable meetings at the home of the members are the outstanding events of the month to these chosen few.

Arete, busy again this year, sponsored the Thanksgiving Pep Rally with Sigma Sigma and took charge of the Victory Bell. Besides this, the organization expanded enough to publish its own paper.

WIG WAG COUNCIL

Wig Wag Council is a committee of sophomore women who are chosen to "acclimate" freshmen at U. C. by offering "women's interest and activity groups" such as bridge, dramatics, athletics, handicraft, and music. These varied activities promote friendships as well as interest in campus life. Wig Wag sponsored convocations on leadership and gave a Christmas party in the Y.M.C.A. for the children of "Vetsville".

VIGILANCE

Those sophomores wearing alarming red arm bands with white "V's" have a right to push around those poor bewildered freshman girls. They are members of the Sophomore Vigilance Committee which is counseled by five junior women and led by a senior. These amazing upperclassmen serenely take credit for the odd and unconventional appearance and actions of the university women the first hectic weeks of school—and what is more—they are proud of it! Members of this group are Mary Lou West, chairman; Pat Trefzger, skit chairman; Betty Banfield, Audrey Traphagen, insignia; E. J. Woolsey, trial; and Norma Beucus, secretary-treasurer.

Watch your step, freshie!

JUNIOR ADVISORS

Junior Advisors, Vigilance, and Wig Wag combined forces this year to present a worthwhile program for the freshman women. With the alternation of Junior Advisor discussion groups and Wig Wag speakers, the program was varied enough to keep the freshman interest. Group projects, a special fashion show convocation presented by the freshmen, and a stress on joining campus activities were a few of the years' activities. The Junior Advisors have once more proved themselves to be "friends, aids, and father confessors."

ROCKET SOCIETY

The Rocket Society of Cincinnati was organized at the University of Cincinnati in 1943 with the aim of furthering interest in rocketry and jet propulsion. To this end experimentation has been carried on through the use of several small models constructed by the members. One of the main projects for the past year was the compilation of data and formulae to facilitate the design of future experimental projects. Speakers, discussion groups, and movies contributed to the consideration of both practical and theoretical problems.

CO-EP CLUB

Co-ep Club is an organization open to all women co-eps in the College of Business Administration and the College of Engineering. Its members sponsored two big events this year. In August, there was a picnic in Burnet Woods for all prospective freshman women. This party gave the incoming frosh and the upperclassmen a sneak preview of each other. Ending the year, the board planned a never-to-be-forgotten party for all the seniors and their profs.

The Quadres Society aims to promote high scholarship, to foster cultural enterprises, to aid social life, and to encourage better interracial relationships. Outstanding activities included a Bow-Wow, the Betty Hall Scholarship Dance, faculty-student tea, a dramatic production, and a Spring Prom.

NEWMAN CLUB

The purpose of the Newman Club, the official Catholic group on campus, is to promote the spiritual, intellectual, and social welfare of the Catholic undergraduates. Some of its activities were: Mass once a month, retreats, a novena every Friday evening, and Lenten discussion groups. An open house each week offered gay social affairs throughout the year. The club also entered the Intramural Tournaments, going to the university play-offs in football, basketball, and bowling.

GUIDON

Company E of Guidon, national woman's honorary auxiliary of Scabbard and Blade, marched through an unusually eventful year. Actives joined the pledges for military instruction and drill by Captain Rollasen, R.O.T.C., and marched with the Cadet Corps in the Homecoming Parade. To increase their activities, members found inspiration from the national convention in South Dakota. The welcome return and cooperation of the R.O.T.C. was also an added impetus to their functions.

VETS ASSOCIATION

Starting with a small nucleus of men, the U. C. Veteran's Association has grown by leaps and bounds as the small trickle of returning veterans became a floodtide in 1946. The Association's activities and influence have expanded in like proportion and included a housing program, symphony concert, several dances, improvement of bookstore methods, and voluntary aid during registration. Dedicated to the service of all veterans on campus, this group has worked with the administration to produce benefits which have aided the entire university.

MORTAR BOARD

To the Mystic 13 Chapter of Mortar Board, national senior woman's honorary, March 13 is a cherished day. It is on this date that the active chapter selects 13 outstanding women who have lived up to Mortar Board ideals of service, leadership, scholarship, and personality. Attesting to this organization's activity have been many worthy projects. Among these were: the annual Mortar Board Donut Day, student-faculty teas, election aid in working for the passage of the university tax levy, and the Plaster Board Ball.

SOPHOS

Sophos, activity honorary, was installed at Cincinnati in 1931. Each year outstanding men in activities and scholarship are chosen from the freshman and sophomore classes. The purpose of Sophos is to foster an intelligent participation in extra-curricular activities, creating a more friendly spirit between the freshman and sophomore classes.

Each year this group sponsors the Freshman Queen Dance which was especially successful this year. Two bands furnished the music, both halls in the Union were open, and the place really jumped.

ULEX

Out of the evanescent mists of the empyrean, wafted on the billowy zephyrs, leaping the impermeable abyss to dash itself against the fairy softness, came the murmur, "Ah, ha! What hast thou there?" And incommunicably mournful sighed the answer, "Razberrahs." And so, lined against the incarnadined nebulae, they faded and were gone, austere permeated with the myrrh fragrance—aspiring ever—failing never. Such was our mission.

In the year 1946 six men were summoned by the black robbed members of Sigma Sigma at the Interfraternity Sing and at the Miami Game. Initiation followed at the biannual Alumni-Active Banquet. 1946 also saw the return of the annual Sigma Sigma Carnival, the proceeds from which were used to send the Band to Dayton for the U. C.—Dayton football game. Meetings and Saturday night parties, held as usual at "Huck Hall", highlighted the year.

MEMORIAL DORM

Changing Robert Frost's definition a little, you have, "Home is the place where, when you go there, they want to take you in." Standing as a three story brick example of this definition of home, you have Memorial Dorm. The largest of three university dormitories, Memorial Dorm has opened its rooms to the majority of out-of-town girls for the past two years.

Gee, he was a good dancer!

Sections B and F

All those to whom Memorial is symbolic as away-from-home find opportunities for self-government interspersed with a full social calendar. In line with self-government, all three units are governed and managed by their own councils of officers. To keep the social calendar alive are all-unit dinners, Y.M.C.A. open houses, faculty teas, and two formal dances. It is easy to understand why Memorial Dorm has the heart felt approval of all the dorm-dwellers who gratefully know they have been made welcome.

R. O. T. C.

Military training of college students to provide reserve officers for the armed forces had its inception in the Morrell Act of 1862. Our experiences in the Civil War had shown the need for a pool of trained civilians who could be called to the colors as officers in time of war. The Reserve Officers Training Corps was organized in 1916, and the unit on the University of Cincinnati campus was installed in 1919. It remained active until 1942 when it was suspended during World War II and the Army Specialist Program substituted on the campus.

Members of Guidon receive instruction on M1 rifle. Group instruction on SO caliber heavy barrel machine gun. Cadets look over MA Director for 90 MM AA gun.

Air Force Cadets study functioning of Advanced Trainer. A twin engine aircraft is studied. Cadets get the feel of the controls.

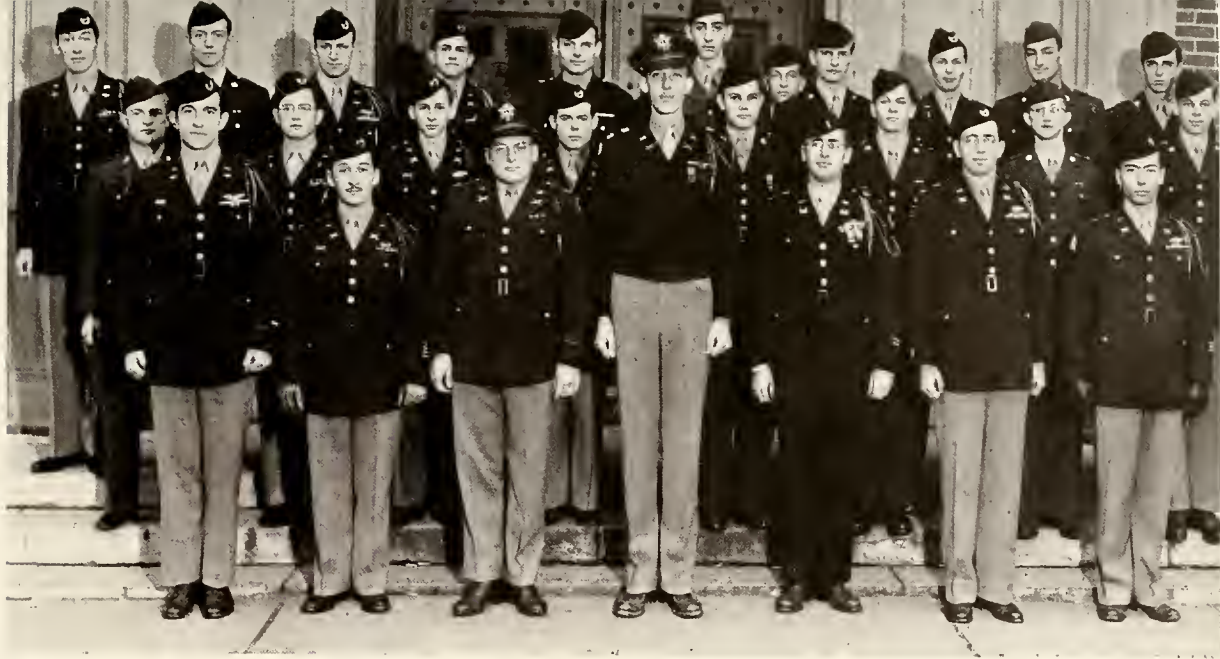

In 1946 the campus R.O.T.C. unit was reactivated. At present, the Corps consists of three branch units: Army Air Force, Coast Artillery Corps (Antiaircraft), and Ordnance, with a total enrollment of approximately three hundred, the larger part of whom are veterans of the Armed Forces. This program of study in Military Science, which leads to a commission in the Officers Reserve Corps, is available on a voluntary basis to all regularly enrolled, physically qualified male students of the university.

PERSHING RIFLES

Pershing Rifles was founded at the University of Nebraska in 1892 by General John J. Pershing. Its purpose is to encourage, preserve, and develop the highest ideals of the military profession. Company E of the First Regiment was founded in 1934 on the U. C. campus. Inactive during the war, the Company was reconstituted in August 1946 and has since strived to regain the efficiency it had attained in past years.

MILITARY BALL

Eighteen U. C. co-eds vied for the title of U. C. Athene at the R.O.T.C. Military Ball in the Great Hall on March 1. The voting resulted in a tie so instead of one Athene, two were chosen. The new goddesses—Emily Russell of the Association of Independent Women and Frances Carnell of Zeta Tau Alpha. At the dance new members of Scabbard and Blade were summoned, and new pledges of Guidon were presented. Pershing Rifles' drill squad gave an exhibition of a Queen Anne Manual of army drill. Jimmy Wilbur's orchestra played for this formal military ball.

Crescendo!

It was a great year for the University Glee Club. One of America's outstanding college choruses was back in stride after the lean war years. Beauty, brains, talent, and men—the Glee Club had all four in abundance. There were visions of the spring tour to spur them on: thoughts of Niagara Falls, Saranac, Kingston, New York City, and Washington, D. C. Inspiration was provided by the enthusiasm with which the Glee Club was received at every concert. Civic and national acclaim hailed the 1946 Glee Club as one of the greatest in the history of the University of Cincinnati.

The season was highlighted by: a series of Lounge Concerts, the Christmas Convocation, Brahms Requiem sung in the Greek Amphitheater, national convention concerts, Varsity Vanities, and the Rotary Club party. Among the lighter moments were: Chief's picnics at Camp Claybanks, the six foot four prayer meetings at Ed's, and the usual party after every concert.

BAND

From the first appearance at the Kentucky game, resplendent in new red and black uniforms, the Band had a banner year. After Kentucky came the bus trip to the Dayton game and the "all night in a day coach ordeal" to Michigan State. But it was worth it. The games were won, and the Band had gone over. The Band next made headlines as a family spat developed over the place of girls in the band. The minor war was forgotten as the great news about the trip to El Paso was announced. That six day trip to the Sun Bowl game will be a landmark in Band history.

Phyllis Livesay, Chi O, presented as the new Band Sponsor.

After the games and a return to normal living, the Band held a party for the campus and showed the trophies of the trip. The minor war about girl members was decided once and for all by a constitutional change which based membership on merit and ability. The new uniforms were sported once more at the spring concert and at the graduation proceedings.

The 1947 Varsity Vanities ran from March 14 through March 16 in Wilson Auditorium. The show, produced each year by the U. C. band, was under the direction of Mr. Merrill Van Pelt. This year's show was highlighted by the faculty skit, a precision chorus with good looking legs and feet in step, a hilarious skit burlesquing Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar", an excellent male quartet, and innumerable solo dancers and singers. Originally scheduled to run two nights, the show was a sell out and extended its run another evening.

ARTS BOARD

During the nine active years of its existence, the Arts Board has always held as its goal the contribution of pleasure and inspiration to its members. An excellent supply of classical records, supplemented by semi-classics, has substantiated the contribution to aesthetic pleasure. In addition, the Arts Board offers to its members profitable experience in such practical arts as photography, writing, and dramatics. Completing the list of Arts Board contributions are the presentations of lectures, instructional films, and recorded concerts.

Personalities

PERSONALITIES

Not content with being treasurer of Theta Phi Alpha, Fay Justice also served as its president. Tribunals, honoraries, and energetic work pointed the way to the Mortar Board pin she now wears.

FAY JUSTICE

Varsity football, basketball, and track are his first loves, even though the Dean's list, Alpha Phi Alpha, and Omicron Delta Kappa find Willard Stargel among the top.

WILLARD STARGEL

She's secretary of Student Council, on Applied Arts Tribunal, a Morton Board, and a Theta Phi. If you haven't already guessed—her name is Maryllen Voss.

MARYLLEN VOSS

He's a Sigma Chi, cheerleader, president of the Junior Class, and president of O.D.K., but being art editor of the Cincinnati gives Dick Harper that "gotta hustle" look.

DICK HARPER

ON CAMPUS

Harriet Janszen, Theta Phi Alpha, found her senior year starred by two big interests—the Mortar Board pin she wears and the position of editor of the News Record.

HARRIET JANSZEN

Not only wearing a Chi Omega, Sigma Chi, and Mortar Board pin, E. J. Woolsey also served as vice-president of the Junior Class and president of W.A.A. and did a staggering amount of work for other campus activities.

EDNA JANE WOOLSEY

Beta Theta Pi's Jim Waring has activities enough to stump an adding machine, but his write-up in Who's Who and the O.D.K. key still outshine the rest.

JIM WARING

An amazing list of activities was climaxed by Rosalyn Chudnof's initiation into the ranks of Mortar Board. The thrill of the year came for this senior when she won the Inter-faith Award.

ROSALYN CHUDNOF

DON POYNTER

Pep personified is D. B. Poynter, the drum major of the Band. Mummers and Varsity Vanities fill busy days while the Fencing Club helps to keep this Beta on his toes.

PHYLLIS LIVESAY

Maybe it was "the blue of her eyes and the gold of her hair" that won Phyl Livesay the title of "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi". The Band noticed it too because they chose her as Band Sponsor, and the whole university acclaimed her the Junior Prom Queen. Chi Omega, W.A.A., Junior Advisors, and V.I.C. left her little time to spare.

Well versed in the art of being Senior Class president, Jack Shepman, Phi Delta Theta, can also speak for the vast experience he has had in the field of honoraries, councils, and clubs.

JACK SHEPMAN

Mortar Board, Women's Senate, Student Council, Junior Advisors, Home Economics Tribunal, and Delta Delta Delta claim Mona Castellini who still has time to "grill goon" with the best.

MONA CASTELLINI

Drawing ability and a sense of humor are all packed into Charles Crozier, Beta Theta Pi's gift to the World of Art. Ulex and Metro are his favorite honoraries although Plaster Board is also mentioned with a smile.

CHARLES CROZIER

PERSONALITIES

Another loyal Mortar Board, Sue Schroder divided her time between Theta Phi Alpha and a host of campus activities. Presiding over Arete and "vice-presiding" over Student Council kept her more than busy.

SUE SCHRODER

Mortar Board and a Kappa key are the pins she wears. Senates, boards, and cabinets are the organizations she serves, and a big smile is her trademark—Frannie Ahlering.

FRANCES AHLERING

Receiving the Becker Award for the outstanding Home Economics freshman, Jean Hock has lived up to it. The end of her junior year found her an outstanding member of Alpha Chi Omega, Women's Senate, Union Board, Mortar Board, Junior Advisors, and a host of other campus activities.

JEAN HOCK

Though Barby Redmon is his biggest interest, Al De Garmo still finds time to devote to L. A. Tribunal, Student Council, O.D.K., and Beta Theta Pi.

AL DE GARMO

Though next year will find her acting as chairman of Junior Advisors, Kappa Delta's La Verne Dick hasn't let her first two college years slide by without packing them full of campus activities.

LA VERNE DICK

PERSONALITIES

President of Home Economics Tribunal, Carol Roettger, Alpha Chi Omega, still found time to add her spirit to Mortar Board, Mummers, Home Economics Club, and Speakers Bureau.

CAROL ROETTGER

Three years crammed full of campus activities won Sigma Chi's George Koch a News Record write-up as the biggest B.M.O.C. Honoraries, boards, tribunals, and councils paraded his name.

GEORGE KOCH

New president of Women's Senate, Betty Green has quite an array of campus activities that were all climaxed by the Mortar Board pin she now wears beside her Theta Phi Alpha pin.

BETTY GREEN

PERSONALITIES

Jean Helle, Chi Omega, had to drop her other campus activities in her senior year because being "boss lady" of the Cincinnati took all of her time.

JEAN HELLE

Not only holding down the most important campus position, Student Council president, Gordon Hughmark also presided over Sigma Sigma, Junior Class, Board of Publications, Social Board, and Delta Tau Delta. Such outstanding recognition won for this awe-inspiring senior a place in Who's-Who.

GORDON HUGHMARK

The ever busy president of Mortar Board, Phyllis Hock, Alpha Chi Omega, has made her smiling presence felt at U. C. A writeup in Who's-Who came at the end of her junior year, and a Phi Beta Kappa key climaxed her senior year.

ENGINEERS' BALL

One of the few dances of the year NOT to have a queen, the Engineers' Ball had to have something. At least so the committee thought. Consequently a variety show was the highlight of this dance which was held Saturday, March 8, in the Great Hall of the Union. As though that were not enough, there were door prizes of brief cases and notebooks—no doubt an attempt to raise scholastic standards?

Spellbound! Must be a high note!

Aren't we engineers devils?

SOPHOS DANCE

Freshman girls barely get time to catch their breath in the fall before they find themselves in the midst of strenuous campaigning for a Freshman Queen. This year the sororities went all out with parties for their candidates but to no avail—the campaign of the Association of Independent Students won the mens' votes for its candidate Jane Vollman. She was presented at the Sophos Dance on November 2. Due to the capacity crowd attending the dance, both the Lounge and the Great Hall in the Union were used for dancing. Verne Wahle's orchestra played in the Lounge, while Will Hauser's played in the Great Hall. The queen was crowned at midnight by Dean Joseph Holliday.

Dean Joseph Holliday crowns Jane Vollman as Sophos Queen.

Now, where am I?

The queen candidates anxiously await the decision.

The cream of the crop!

The powers that be.

Try to find yourself!

On Friday night, February 21, the Junior Prom became more than a dream. We found ourselves dancing to the music of Jimmie Lunceford and his orchestra at Castle Farm. The highlight of the evening was the introduction and crowning of the Junior Prom queen, chosen from among the candidates representing the various sororities and independent students on campus. Seventeen of U. C.'s loveliest coeds competed for the coveted award this year. Phyllis Livesay, charming candidate of Chi Omega sorority, reigned as queen amid the lusty cheers of an enthusiastic crowd. Prof. Joseph E. Holliday, assistant dean of the College of Liberal Arts, presented the trophies, and Mr. James Alexander, star of the stage show, "Oklahoma", placed the crown on the new queen's head.

JUNIOR PROM

And have you met Miss—

SENIOR PROM

Open your eyes, Johnny!

"It's only a shanty" . . . , My, it was hot!

The university's social season was climaxed last year by the Senior Prom in the Great Hall of the Union on Friday, May 31. The affair was formal, and the night was sultry. Everyone suffered through long skirts and tuxes until Johnny Long and his orchestra started playing sweet tunes. This big name band was obtained by the committee in charge of the dance which included Jim Waring chairman; Rick Hanford, Gordon Hughmark, and Lloyd Towers. The dance was sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa and the Senior Class.

THE SING

The crowd listens anxiously.

Last spring for the first time since 1942, the Interfraternity Sing had fraternity competition. All in all, 20 sororities and fraternities participated in the Sing. All but 8 were eliminated in the semi-finals which took place in Wilson Auditorium on May 19. Winning the finals which were held in the Greek Amphitheater on Sunday evening, June 5, were Chi Omega and Phi Delta Theta. The Chi O's and the Phi Delt's both took the cups for the second year. In second place were Kappa Kappa Gamma and Beta Theta Pi.

The Phi Delts are victorious.

The Chi O's win again.

Joyce Suter and Clare Kennedy are presented the cups by Robert Sarvis.

INTERFRATERNITY DANCE

Friday night, March 21, found U. C. Greeks and their dates crowding the dance floor at Castle Farm for the Interfraternity Dance with Ziggy Elman and his orchestra providing the really sweet tunes. Interfraternity Council which sponsored the dance was not to be outdone by the other dance committees of the year. It, too, sponsored a queenship which carried with it the title of Goddess of the Greeks, no less. The winner: Charlene Dunhoft of Kappa Alpha Theta.

The Goddess of the Greeks receives her cup! Ziggy Elman gives out.

A bevy of beauties!

SIGMA SIGMA CARNIVAL

Sigma Sigma for the first time since 1943 organized a rip-roaring carnival which it presented May 18. Booths lined the Great Hall. There was dancing to Bobby Carroll's orchestra. Sue McDevitt, Theta Phi, and Don Smith, Sigma Chi, were elected queen and king of the carnival. June Schneider and Bob Bertke won the jitterbug contest.

Booths were comical and attractive. The Tri Delts with their messenger service and the Phi Delts with their side show walked away with the cups for the cleverest booths. Cups for being the most popular went to the Delts who let you smash glassware and china by tossing baseballs and to the Alpha Gamma Deltas who sold flowers. Admission to the voting booth for king and queen was in the form of pennies. Profits went to sponsor the band's trips to out of town football games.

This policy was published in the Fraternity Handbook which was distributed early in the school year by Interfraternity Council to all men who were going through rushing. The Council sponsored the Greek Night Dinner and the Interfraternity Dance.

"As the sands of time go rolling . . ." ATO celebrated its 25th anniversary year, and 47 new men were pledged. These pledges turned humorous, winning the Homecoming float trophy, while their goat, Alpha Tee, caused quite a sensation competing for Sophos Queen. "Mom" Chappelle returned to add the feminine touch, and Chris Bantz came back as president. Bill Meyers and his social committee kept things lively with dances—the Christmas and spring formals highlighting an outstanding year.

"You say you're a Beta? That makes one more." . . . Yes, like most other fraternities the Betas were surprised to find that there were so many of them—slightly bewildered, too. Regardless of this first confusion, they became adjusted. Furthermore, they showed up as footballers, managers of publications, artists, campus politicians, writers, star students. And, in spite of their number and their varied interests, they knit themselves into the compact unit for which they have long been noted.

This year found the "cellars of old Delta Tau" ringing again with the spirited enthusiasm that has long distinguished the men from Jefferson Ave. as the "good Delts". Emerging from their "cellar of fellowship" in full force, however, the Delts were represented in all campus activities. Fred Ebeling, Gordon Hughmark, and Ken Guise gained recognition for their vigorous participation in campus life in "Who's Who in American Colleges". One of the largest, and certainly one of the most active fraternities on campus—these the "good Delts".

There're back! After three years of inactivity during the war, Iota Chi, redecorating the house and pledging nearly forty men, returned to its prewar position of distinction on campus. With Vernon Lambert as president of Phi Eta Sigma, vice-president of the Radio Club, member of A.I.E.E. and Men's Senate; "Prof" Buch as president of Alpha Chi Sigma; "Tenor" Emmons as vice-president of A.S.M.E.; with a Pledge Formal at the Kemper Lane; with those distinctively "different" after-the-game parties—the Iota Chis were back.

In September 52 actives and 40 pledges, most of them fresh from duty with Uncle Sam, started off one of the best years in the history of Gamma Gamma Zeta. House dances, hayrides, and beer parties galore, topped off with a rip roarin' pledge formal, will linger long in memories as those "happy days at old U. C.". The thrill of the year was a three day visit to Huntington, West Virginia, by our degree team, to initiate and install the one hundred and fifteenth chapter of ol' Lam Chi at Marshall College.

Phi Kappa, the only Catholic fraternity on the U. C. campus, added another successful year to its history. Highlight of the year occurred in April, when all the Ohio chapters of Phi Kap gathered in Cincinnati for the first postwar Province Ball. Also to be remembered were the Pledge Formal, the quest for a new house, the National Conclave at Purdue, Founders Day, clothes parties, homecoming, hay rides, and never-to-be-forgotten section changes.....

Though the manpower shortage had forced the Pi Kaps to inactivate in 1943, the returning veterans reorganized the chapter in the spring of 1946. It was not long before the Pi Kaps had returned to their own house, and the men were instilled with a new vigor that incited them to rebuild a fine chapter. A note of glamour touched the Pi Kap social activities when Kathryn Grayson, famed movie actress and stage singer, was presented as Alpha Xi's first postwar sweetheart.

Omicron Chapter of Sigma Alpha Mu suffered from the absence of many of its members during the war years. Now that the world is slowly approaching normalcy, Omicron's ranks are filling again. Not only has our active chapter expanded, but our September pledge class proved to be the largest in the history of Omicron. This year the SAMs honored their founding by giving a stag banquet at the Alms Hotel and a formal dance at the Sinton Ballroom.

Welcoming twenty-one pledges in the fold in September, SAE initiated a year that was studded with success and prominence. Proud bearers of the Sig Alph pin attained distinction serving on nearly every administrative, social, and athletic organization of the university. Athletically, they displayed their prowess in intramurals and wrested the cup from the Sigma Chi in their annual football game. Socially speaking, ingeniously clever decorations changed the house from Shangri-la hilarity, comic strip and carnival gaiety, to the pomp of unforgettably fine formals.

"A Sig I am" was heard from every corner of the campus as an influx of Sigs returned from the wars. The swelling chapter took its share of the honors on campus with George Koch as the biggest BMOC; Dick Harper victorious as Junior Class president; and many stars in varsity athletics, publications, and student government. Sigma Chi's social functions, which sparkled with originality, included the Christmas pledge formal, the famed Sweetheart Ball, the spring formal, and several stag parties.

The renewed vigor of the postwar Theta Chis was evident at the 90th annual convention in Chicago, where 15 men from the Beta Omicron Chapter were present. Intramural activities, house parties, and the Pledge Formal at the Alms indicated the spirit of a fine chapter. Representing the Theta Chis in campus activities were: Towers as president of O.D.K., Wade in Phi Eta Sigma, and Duguette on the Business Administration Tribunal. The postwar college found the Theta Chis sincerely contributing to the rounded development of the men on campus.

Summer saw the renovation of the chapter house and the initiation of five pledges. The active chapter was up to prewar strength when fifteen yearlings were pledged this fall. With the return of "Mom" Fahrenbruck in September, the chapter was complete; and 1946-47 found Triangle, the fraternity of engineers, again taking a large part in campus activities.

The Council, through sororities, sent baskets of food, clothing, and money to an underprivileged family and helped Metro with its Christmas party for underprivileged children. Officers of the Council are Martha Manning, president; Betty Deremo, secretary; and Lois Stoeckle, treasurer..

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Founded 1885—DePauw University—Alpha Delta Chapter established in 1919—67 chapters

President—Betty Deremo

Vice-President—Carol Roettger

Secretary—Verna Deitz

Treasurer—Jean Zink

Swelling the music of the Lyre, 26 new pledges wore the Alpha Chi Omega pledge pin. Proving their worth, Patty Nagel was chosen "Apple of the Phi Delt's Eye." Not to be outdone by their pledges, the active chapter also shone. Betty Deremo added her pep to the football season as band sponsor. Carol Roettger and Phyllis Hock acted as Mortar Board members. Seven of the actives were Junior Advisors. Thus, added to the harmony of their Lyre is the word "achievement".

Alpha Omicron Pi celebrated its golden jubilee this year. Theta Eta joined with sister chapters for a formal banquet at the Sinton Hotel. A highlight of the season was a surprise visit from our charming national president, Mrs. McKinney. The Halloween party at the A. O. Pi house was one of the big social hits on campus. All the girls are looking forward to meeting the founders and other chapters at the big national convention to be held this summer in Virginia.

The Tri-Delts met the tremendous influx of new students with the largest pledge class in their history. They proudly presented the novices to such old hands at the campus game as Mona Castellini, president of Women's Senate; Jenny Schmid, Student Council representative; and Nancy Nenninger, winner of the Beecher Award for the outstanding freshman in Home Ec. Between parties and exchange dinners, they held the Founder's Day Banquet and Pledge Formal—both occasions marking a memorable return to prewar social life.

The Sig Delts opened their 1946 season with ten pledges plus the announcement of five engagements. Such a beginning forecasted the fullness and success of coming events in both social and academic plans. As added proof, the pledges gave a Sadie Hawkins Day dance but were kept in line by a study schedule which the actives supervised. Giving their time were Marilyn Bernstein, Elizabeth Lazar, and Charlotte Litwin who served as Junior Advisors while Jeanne Taylor kept busy as Pan-Hellenic scholarship chairman.

FOOTBALL

Football at the University of Cincinnati has reached the crossroads. The year 1946 will forever be remembered as the outstanding gridiron year in the Queen City's history. Coached by Ray Nolting, the Bearcats traveled 5,934 miles to meet some tough opponents. Winning nine and losing two, the Red and Black climaxed the season by trouncing Virginia Polytechnical Institute in the annual Sun Bowl classic at El Paso.

Heading the Athletic Department at the University of Cincinnati is M. Charles Mileham known to his friends as Chick. Mileham joined U. C. in '26 as freshman football coach. He organized the intramural program and was instructor in physical education. In '37 he was appointed Athletic Director and Professor of Physical and Health Education. Chick graduated in '26 from Oberlin College where he received his letters in football, basketball, and track.

A graduate of Hughes, Coach Ray Nolting has participated in athletics the greater part of his life. He was a member of the great U. C. football squad that won the Buckeye Championship in 1934. Ray joined the Chicago Bears in 1936 where he set a record for five yards gained per try over a period of nine years.

Assistant Coach Bill Schwarberg entered U. C. after graduating from Holmes. Bill saw action on the varsity during the 1934-35 gridiron season. Returning to Holmes, Schwarberg coached his alma mater to a football championship in 1942. During the war, he served as a Navy Armed Guard officer.

Assistant Coach Carl Braumbaugh is recognized as one of the originators of the "T" formation. Playing with the Bears in 1930, Carl was the quarterback who sent Red Grange to the flank against the Green Bay Packers, thus originating the man in motion. This last year, he divided his time between coaching the Bearcats and the Chicago Cardinals.

After attending high school in Bellaire, Ohio, Assistant Coach Reyman "Bud" Bonar entered Notre Dame. Bud was the all Western Quarterback who kicked the extra point that defeated the great Army eleven of '33. He played pro ball with Ottawa and the New York Yankees. A leave of absence from U. C. found Bud a first sergeant in the infantry. He participated in four combat operations in the Pacific.

Assistant Coach John Wiethe graduated a three letterman from Roger Bacon. During John's four years at Xavier University he received the Legion of Honor for being outstanding scholastically and athletically besides being an All Ohio football selection. John played three years pro ball with the Cincinnati Bengals and four years with the Detroit Lions. In '39 and '40 Wiethe was named professional All American guard.

The Bearcats opened their gridiron season in a blaze of glory by defeating Indiana 15-6. Coach Ray Nolting was named Coach of the week and Captain Elbie Nickel was hailed as a prospective All American candidate. A pass from quarterback Don McMillan to Jim Dougherty scored U. C.'s first touchdown in the second period. In the same quarter the Red and Black tallied again on a lateral from Willard Stargel to Nickel. In the third frame Nickel kicked a field goal, and the Cincy lads cinched their first victory.

Nolting's gridders, in their first game at home, were handed their first defeat 26-7 by a powerful Kentucky eleven. A capacity crowd of 25,000 jammed into Nippert Stadium to see the Wildcats outsmart, outrun, and outfight the Bearcats. Our lone tally came on a line plunge by Mike Graham from the Kentucky one yard stripe.

The Red and Black had an easy time in crushing the Thundering Herd from Marshall College 39-14. Mike Graham, "Red" Dougherty, Alkie Richards, and Roger Stephens broke into the scoring column.

Cincinnati traveled fifty miles to down the Dayton Flyers 19-0 before a full house. Although the Bearcats failed to score in the first half, Nolting's between halves locker room rally sparked the lads to victory.

A homecoming crowd of 25,000 witnessed U. C. as they trampled Ohio University 19-0 and handed the Bobcats their first defeat of the season. The Cincy forward wall was outstanding as Bill Smyth, Dick Langenbeck, Willard Stargel, and John Vilkoski constantly cracked through Ohio's line.

Approximately 1,000 Bearcat rooters migrated to Lansing, Michigan and saw a grid duel they will never forget. A fighting Cincinnati aggregation pulled a victory out of the fire as they handed Michigan State an 18-7 defeat. Billy Williams, Rog Stephens, and Al Sabato crossed the pay line.

The only shut-out of the season occurred after the Bearcats had journeyed down to Tulsa, Oklahoma. Playing on a swampy gridiron under rainy skies, U. C. was swamped 20-0 in their second defeat at the hands of a powerful and tricky Tulsa organization.

A worried bench watches as U. C. is tackled.

Roger Stephens, Gene Ruehlmann, Al Sabato, Hal Johnson, and Stan Klimczak broke into the scoring column as the Bearcats whitewashed a weak Xavier eleven 39-0. 19,000 fans saw Bill Smyth, Bert Bauer, Dick Langenbeck, and Tom Blake completely pulverize the "X" line.

ROW 1—President Walters and Mayor Stewart complacently watch as U. C. gains, but other fans just enjoy their hotdogs. ROW 2—The crowd goes wild as U. C. scores on Indiana. Halftime and the band performs. ROW 3—Students and coaches wonder if he will catch it. ROW 4—The Bearcats score again and the crowd goes wild.

The 'Cats romped to an easy 34-7 victory over Western Reserve of Cleveland as 7,500 football enthusiasts looked on. Playing on a soggy field, the Clifflonites scored in every period except the second.

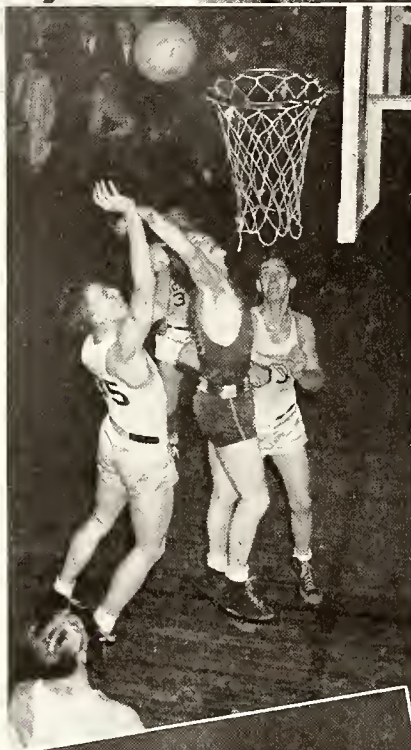

The Turkey Day tilt of 1946 will always be remembered for its emotional tenseness and the brilliant play of Captain Elbie Nickel and his teammates. A jam-packed audience of 30,000 whistled a sigh of relief as the Bearcats tallied a TD in the last minute of play to defeat a strong Miami University squad 13-7.

For the second time this year the Bearcats gained national prominence as they defeated Virginia Polytechnical Institution 18-6 in the annual Sun Bowl classic at El Paso, Texas. Although the game was marred with questionable refereeing, U. C. played a hard, brilliant brand of football. The team, and Roger Stephens in particular, gained the plaudits of the VPI men who were insistent that U. C. was their toughest opposition. Hal Johnson, Al Sabato, and Don McMillan pushed across our needed touchdowns.

BASKETBALL

Under the excellent tutelage of John Wiethe, U. C.'s basketteers, one of the most formidable ever to represent old McMicken on the hardwood courts, this season exhibited a fine brand of basketball. A notable upset was the Bearcats win over Marshall College which dropped the West Virginians from the nation's undefeated ranks. With all the men returning next year, we may look forward to another great hoop season.

Have the crossroads been reached in basketball at old McMicken? Not only have the crossroads been reached, but the Bearcat basketekers went farther up the road of success to end the season with an impressive 17 games won and 9 lost. U. C. hit its first snag when it met a great Kentucky quintet. Although Ralph Beard paced the Wildcats with 17 points, our own little Alvin Rubenstein chalked up 16 before being stopped. The Red and Black eased over Western Reserve and then whitewashed a highly tooted George Pepperdine five, 63-49.

A journey to Indianapolis proved disastrous as we fell before Butler's onslaught. Two nights later Baylor found a Cincy weak spot, and before the 'Cats recovered, the score stood 54-45, Baylor. An easy victory over Toronto by a 36 point margin proved the prelude to a thrilling New Year's Eve battle when the Bearcats proved to be better than Tulsa by a one point margin. Louisville swept over the 'Cats after a Cincy victory over Wayne. Western Reserve, and then Miami (in a rough and tumble affair), fell before Coach Wiethe's men. A victory over Ohio U. was quickly followed by our second loss to Louisville. The Dayton win was a warm-up game for the big Marshall contest.

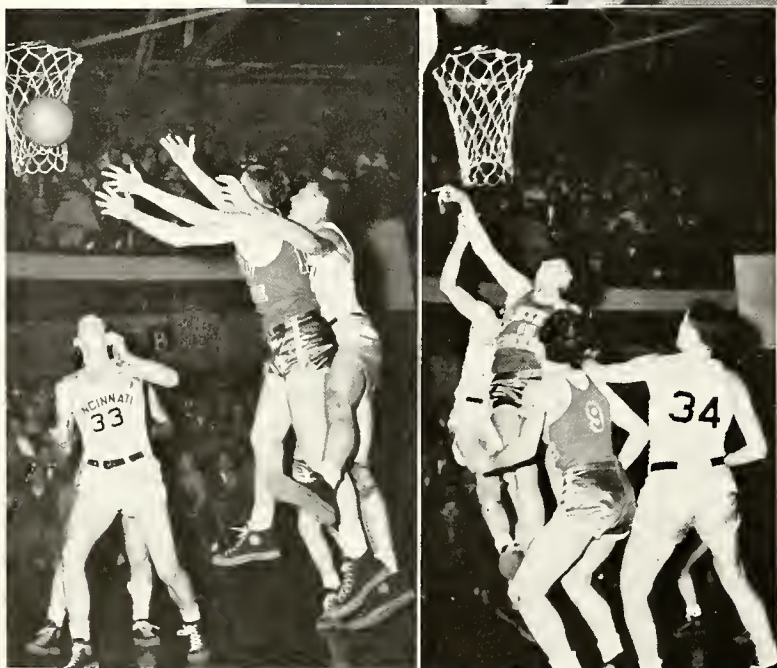

Richard Dallmer, Al Rubenstein, Charles Clickner.

Marshall suffered its first home defeat since January 15, 1944 as Captain Bill Westerfeld and Charles Clickner controlled the baskets. A trip to Miami saw the Red and Black fall by a three point margin. Ohio U. and Dayton upset the Bearcats in two surprise victories, but Manhattan fell by the wayside. Marshall was again defeated, but Miami scalped the Cliftonites 63-52. The second win over Wayne proved easy for our men. The spirited contest with Xavier featured Ralph Richter. The "X" men were thoroughly trounced 76-61. A ride to Akron added another victory to the swelling win list. The climax to an excellent season on the courts was a 61-51 victory over Butler which put the Bearcat Varsity in a tie with Butler for the Mid-American basketball championship.

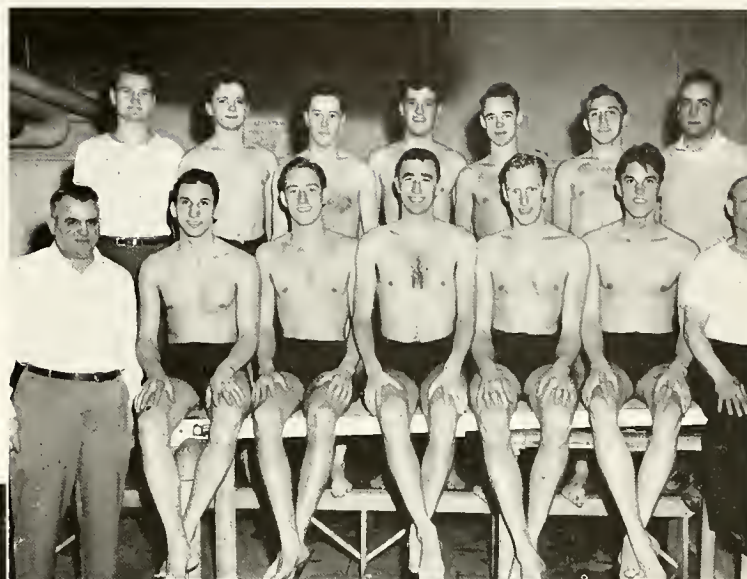

Elbie Nickel, Alkie Richards.

In breaking twelve pool and sectional records, the Bearcat swimmers of 1947 compiled the most impressive results of any U. C. swimming team in the history of Old McMicken. Led by co-captains Charlie Keating and Roy Lagaly in ten dual meets, the mermen met defeat only at the hands of Michigan State. Bill Keating brought State AAU Championship laurels to U. C., and brother Charles missed runner up spot in the National AAU meet through a technical disqualification. Roy Stickney and Urb Schmidt also showed championship inclinations by scoring one hundred and thirty points between them.

BASEBALL

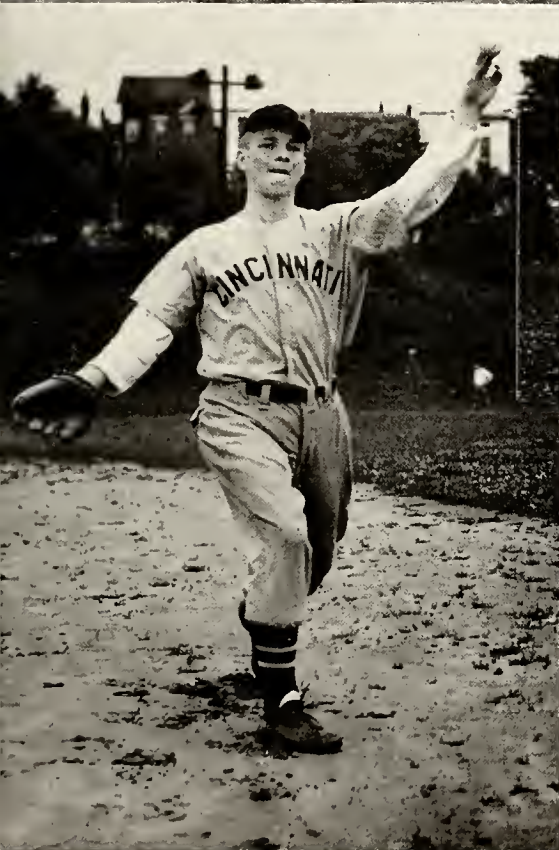

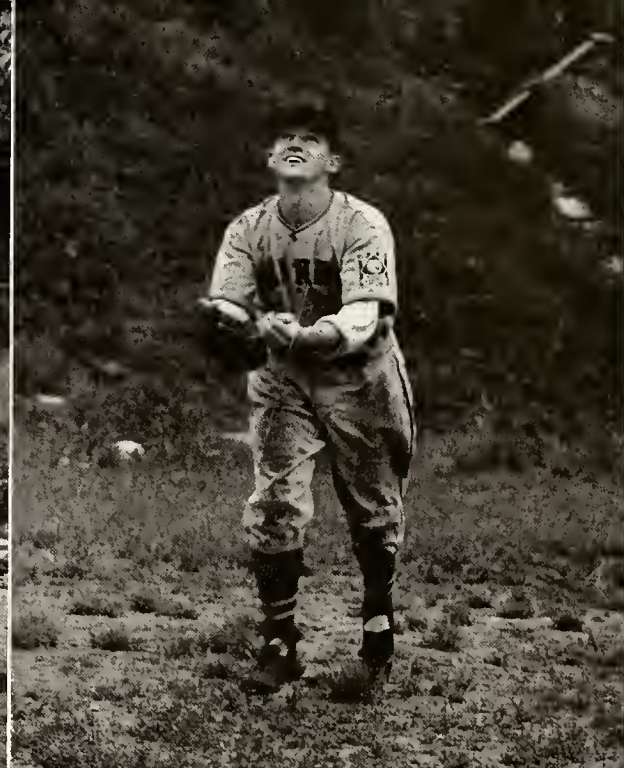

The inclement weather which prevailed in the midwest last spring forced the 1946 Bearcat baseball team to cancel seven of its fifteen scheduled games. Of eight contests in which the nine participated, six were won and only two lost. Included in this good record were two wins over Ohio State and single victories at the expense of Wayne, Wilmington, Marshall, and Louisville. Miami's Indians and the Ohio University Bobcats were on the long end of the score in the Bearcat's losing games.

Coach Ray Nolting piloted the Cincinnati aggregation.

TENNIS

Losing only to Ohio State and Wayne, the 1946 Bearcat tennis aggregation ended an excellent court season with 6 matches won and 1 unfinished. Led by Marshall Chambers and Norman Appel, the varsity won over its traditional rival, Miami University, and also breezed to victories over Oberlin, Toledo, Kentucky, and Michigan State.

Spring vacation found the U. C. team on the road as they traveled to Oberlin and Toledo in a prelude to the regular court season. Somewhat unusual was the teaming of number one man Marshall Chambers with number six man Ernie Spiller in the doubles matches. One of the highlights of the '46 net season was the match between Appel and Skippy Wills of Miami. The match lasted two-and-one-half hours and saw Skippy walk away the victor after a 37 game struggle.

Ray Hensley went undefeated in the number four slot and repeated his excellent performances when he teamed with Aaron Weinstein in the doubles division. Frank Inouye, the only senior, was a powerhouse in the number three position and helped his team complete a very successful season.

FENCING

The clash of cold steel echoed through the halls of the Alma Mater as the Fencing Team opened its 1946-47 season against Notre Dame. But the greater experience of the men from South Bend did its work as U. C. lost 15 bouts and won only 7. Nor were the Bearcat fencers able to overcome the handicap of their inexperience. They went on to lose to Michigan State, Lawrence Tech, and Ohio State but had the satisfaction of triumphing over their traditional rivals, the Redskins from Miami.

The Bearcat fencers gave their opponents plenty of competition, and the meets were much closer than the actual scores seem to indicate. The meet with Ohio State, for instance, was lost by only 8 touches. But the men from U. C. just did not have the necessary experience to make that last touch count. High scorers of the team coached by Professor C. M. Hutchings were Dave Bacon, captain; Walter Friedlander; and Fred Davenport.

RIFLE AND PISTOL CLUB

The University of Cincinnati Rifle and Pistol Club was organized by a group of enthusiasts in August, 1946 and affiliated as a Class "A" Club of the National Rifle Association. The purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in rifle and pistol marksmanship and to foster the spirit of competition and good citizenship. Teams within the club are the Men and Women's Varsity and the U. C. Rifle and Pistol Club Team. Both are strong contenders for national championship honors.

TRACK

The first varsity track record to be broken since 1944 gave evidence to the fact that track was back to normal at U. C. Fred Redecker put the shot 45 feet 11½ inches for the new standard, besides winning the state collegiate championship in that event. The "track-less wonders" as they were called, because they had no home oval on which to run, had an even break on the season of 1946. The Bearcats dropped the opener to Wayne, 75½ - 55½, but reversed those totals to top Butler. The final mile relay brought victory to Ohio U., 69¼ - 61¾. However, U. C. placed second in a triangular meet with Miami and Bowling Green and had overwhelming victories over Denison and Earlham. Redecker and Captain Willard Stargel showed well in the state meet.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women' Athletic Association, popularly known as the W.A.A., provides the opportunity for U. C. co-eds to learn and participate in a variety of sports and athletic activities. The W.A.A. Board which is the governing body of the association is a representative group of officers, managers of sports, and chairmen who plan the program of social events, banquets, competition in sports for individuals, classes, sororities, and other colleges, and co-recreational activities which have been emphasized this year.

PLAY DAY

Eleven universities from Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky participated in the women's Play Day which was held at U. C. Saturday, March 29. Those represented were Bowling Green, Capital, Miami, U. C., Louisville, Dayton, Kentucky, Marietta, Western, Mount St. Joseph, Our Lady of Cincinnati, Ohio, Wilmington, and Wittenberg. In all, 400 girls participated with from 6 to 30 girls from each college and 75 from U. C.

ROW 1—Is it coming or going? Doggone it! Pass it to me! ROW 2—Go! Wait for Mabel!

Sports on the schedule were basketball, swimming, volleyball, badminton, and table tennis. The dance clubs from Western, the University of Kentucky, and U. C. gave a combined program. Arete sponsored a banquet in the Grill. Entertainment there was given by Bob Hatterschide's Six-Foot-Four Quartet. Also on the program of the day was a W.A.A. round table discussion and a tea sponsored by the College of Home Economics.

Edna Jane Wollsey was chairman of the committee in charge and Dorothy Peacock was vice-chairman. Dr. Helen L. Coops, associate professor of health and physical education, was faculty advisor. This tri-state women's play day is an annual event and is nearly always held at U. C.

ROW 1—Congratulations, etc! Cross your fingers! Teamwork. ROW 2—Here she comes! Try it through the net!
ROW 3—They're off! I'll get it!

The end has come. It's been a lot of fun putting the book together for you. Of course there have been plenty of headaches, but that's all part of the game. As the last pages roll off the press, however, these are all forgotten, and we pause to reflect on all the help and cooperation we have had from everyone.

We wish to thank all of you who have worked so hard to make this book possible—Professor Raleigh R. Sharrock, our financial advisor; Jack Powell for his fine job of printing; Indianapolis Engraving Co. for their excellent engravings; Photo-Reflex Studio for getting our senior pictures out on time; Brand Studios for their fine pictures and service; and the many others who have helped us do this job.

So now, with pride in accomplishment we turn over to you the 1947 Cincinnati.

JEAN HELLE.

Thoughts of Spring . . . Bring Thoughts of

ICE CREAM

JADED Appetites . . . "Spring fever-ish palates
. . . spring quickly back to energy when you serve Nature's most delicious food-dessert.

PURE FRUITS blended with rich milk and cream and tantalizing ingredients produce the dish, which appeals instantly to young and old.

NO DESSERT can take the place of Ice Cream
at meals, 'tween meals or after meals.

TO GET the greatest enjoyment out of Ice
Cream, use FRECHTLING'S SEALTEST Ice Cream—made in a model plant, and every ingredient thoroughly controlled by constant laboratory protection.
